OUR NEWPORT NEWS CORRESPONDENCE. CAMP BUTLET, NEWPORT NEWS, VA., Jan. 15, 1862. Ke in January—Paymaster Fletcher Paying Off the Troops—A Few Hints to Adams' Express Company— Colonel Carr, of the Second New York, a Model Colonel—

Our Signal Party-Major Myers' Cede of Signals, de. elieve that where cotton and firs grow, and where less an a month ago roses bloomed in the open air, the oldiers are now snowballing and the officers improvising leighing parties? Such is the fact, however, and th prospects are good for a season of mud and slush worthy of New York itself, that will last for a month at least, and entirely prevent any active operations to or from this post. A dreary prospect indeed; but we have to make the best of it, and console ourselves with reading the accounts of our more fortunate brethren on the various expeditions, of which, wherever they be, we expect good expeditions, of which, wherever they be, we expect good tidings.

Major Fletcher, Paymaster of the United States Army, has been at work since yesterday paying off the troops, and at the rate at which he does business he will get through with the entire camp in three days. Yesterday be paid the Eleventh and Seventh New York regiments, and Twenty ninth Massachausetts regiment. To day, he has commenced with the Second New York. The agent for Adams' Express Company, Mr. Christianson, is kept busy early and late, and, as far as we can judge, there will be sent home a larger amount of money than on any previous pay day. This is owing partly to the liberality with which the soldlers are forbiden to sell anything stronger than lager beer. Talking about the Adams' Express Company, it does seem to us that their charges for carrying small sums of money are rather exorbitant. For carrying twenty dollars, for instance, they charge fifty cents, and if the recipient of the money lives in New York a little way from the office, twenty-live consective are put on, making a charge of nearly four percent. We acknowledge the solidity and high character of the Adams' Express Company, yet there is no doubt that a little healthy competition would be of much benefit to the soliders and their families. Colonic Carr, of the Second regiment New York Volunteers, who is ever watchful when he can do anything for the benefit and improvement of his command, ferwards the money that is destined to go to the families of his men to some bank in Troy, and draws checks thereon without charging any premium or exchange whatever. It is an example worthy of imitation.

The signal party at this post is going to be increased by the addition of one officer and three privates. This department of the service has been for emment benefit, especially at a post like this, where the telegraphic communication is so apt to be interrupted, from the fact that the wire from here to Fort Monroe passes through a portion of the south part of its commander, Heutenaut Henry ings.

The Washington Female Prisoners. [Washington correspondence of the Philadelphia Frees.] The first person incarcerated at the prison was Mrs. Rose O. H. Groenhow, as she signs herself. She was ar-rested on the 11th of August of the last year, and has rested on the 11th of August of the last year, and has been confined in the prison ever since. Her husband was formerly employed in the State Department in this city. She is a woman of letters, and was born in the South, although brought up in Washington. She is confined in her own house, in one of the upper stories, and has the attendance of a servant, besides the company of her own daughter, an interesting girl of some twelve years. Besides these comfined hore were Mrs. Phillips, her sister, Mrs. Levy, and her two daughters, Misses Fannie and Leua. Mrs. Phillips is a Jewess, and her husband married her at Savannah, Ga. Mrs. Levy was a widow, and her husband, who was formerly in the army, died. Her two daughters are fluely educated. These latter were, after being confined six weeks, sent to Fortress Monroe.

Next in turn comes Mrs. Betty A. Hassler, who was Fortress Monroe.

Next in turn comes Mrs. Betty A. Hassler, who was born and reared in Washington. She possessed the least education of any woman ever confined in this prison. Her hisband is a Southern mae. She is faccinating in appearance, but has not much decision of character. She was released on parole by order of the Secretary of War.

Mrs. Jackson, the mother of the assassin of Elisworth, has also been confined at this point. She came here with nothing but a fiance; gown on, and wearing slave shoes. She was incarcerated but two days and nights. She has now gone South, to Richmond, where she has been endeavoring, with but little success, to obtain funds for the support of her family. It is rumored that she is not able to collect enough funds to support her from day to able to collect enough funds to support her from day to day.

Miss Lilly Mackle, a daughter of Mr. Mackle, a clerk in one of the departments, and belonging to one of the most respectable families of Washington, was also confined here for two months.

Mrs. M. A. Onderdonk, who sometimes represents herself to be a widow, and sometimes a wife, was arrested in Chicago some months since, and after being confined here six weeks, was released on parole. Forty dollars were given her to pay her expenses back to Chicago, but instead of going there she went to New York. She was last heard of at St. Louis.

An English lady, Mrs. Riena Lowe, who was arrested at Roston, and whose son was with her, having come with a commission in the rebel army, has also been confined at this institution. The son was afterwards sent to Fort Warren, and she returned to England.

Besides the above, there were some eight or ten persons arrested at Alexandria and in this city, whose names are not remembered, and who, after being confined at this prison, were shortly after liberated on taking the oath of allegiance.

Miss Elie M. Poole, alias Stewart, was arrested and are not remembered, and who, after being conflued at this prison, were shortly after liberated on taking the cath of allegance.

Miss Ellis M. Poole, alias Stewart, was arrested and brought to the prison on the 11th of August, 1861. She came from Wheeling, where, after having been confined for some time in the prison there, she made her escape by tying the sheets together and letting herself down from the prison window. She has been in communication with the rebel leaders in Kentucky, advising them to make certain changes in their plan of operations. When arrested the second time, within ten miles of the county's lines in Kentucky, $7,500 of unexpended money, formshed by the rebeis, was found upon her person. She has been a correspondent of the Richmond Enquirer and the Buitmore Enchange. Miss Poole is yet in confinement at the Sixteenth street jail.

Among the number yet confined here is Mrs. Baxley, formerly a resident of Baltimore. She was arrested on the 25d of December. She had just come from Richmond, and had been in conversation with Jeff. Pavis, from whom she had obtained a commission in the rebel army for her lover, Dr. Hrown. She is, as she represents herself, a very "explosive" woman, and it was from this fact that they arrest took place on board of the beat, while approaching Baltimore from Richmond. This woman has refused to sleep under a blanket marked "U. S.," ever since her confinement here.

ferior of the State, where his efforts have been attended with considerable success: Capt. O'Beirne has brought on with him a large detachment of recruits, and will leave for the seat of war either this evening or to-morrow morning. In the mean time persons wishing to join the spiendid regiment to which Capt. O'Beirne belongs can do so by reporting to him in person or to Capt. Richard S. Barry, at Harmony Hail, No. 17 Centre street. During the last six months the Thirty seventh regiment has improved wonderfully in furll and discipline, and now bears a reputation for proficiency second to none in the volunteer service. This change is mainly due to the able management and zealous direction of Col. Hayman, who is an old officer of twenty-five years' service in the regular army.

THE SIXTY-THIRD REGIMENT-IRISH BRI-GADE. Cantain Kayanagh, who is detailed on special recruit ing duty for the Sixty third regiment, will, we are informed, send on to Washington on Monday next a large number of recruits for that corps, which, under the active supervision of Colonel Enright, is in a flourishing condition at their camp in Virginia.

saits, it may be remembered, that defaults were taken against the United States government last week, under the 120th and 185th rules of the court, which allow of the counsel for the claimants or defendants to move for a dismissal of the information, if the government officers are not ready when the cases are moved for trial. The suits in question originated under the administration of Mr. Collector Schell, who was interested in half of the forfeiture of the property seized, had there been a decree of condemnation and sale. When the cases were reached on the calendar Mr. Schell was not present, and Roh. John McKeon and Mr. Smith noved for a dismissal of the informations and a verdict for the claimants, which the Court granted. This morning E. D. Smith, United States District Attorney, and Mr. Woodford moved, on affidavit, that the cases be restored to the calendar, and set down for trial at a day to be fixed in this torns. Mr. Smith was heard in opposition. Judge Batts heid that the rules of the Court must be enforced, and that the proceedings of the counsel for the claimants had been entirely in concordance with these rules. His Homer, in denying the motion to set aside the default, and in answer to an observation of the United States District Attordey, said that the latter officer and his assistants were not to blame, or had made any lacks in the cases. That Mr. Schell, having a large interest in the result, it was his duty to have been present when the cases were called. Motion to set aside default denied.

Inscriptions on Our Flags. TO THE EDITOR OF THE HERALD.

I observe in the annual report of the Adjutant General, published by you this morning, under heading, "Honor

o the Pioneer Regiments," the recommendation to have BERNUDA-Brig Mountain Engle-James Onterbridge.

Among the guests at the Metropolitan Hotel is the Rev-Samuel P. Langley, a Catholic clergyman, formerly a chaplain in the rebel army, but more recently a refugee from Mexico. Yesterday the divine made his appearance at police headquarters in Broome street, and complained that he had been robbed of $2,000 and a gold watch while in the correct splean No. No. No. 100. This regiment has been, for the last three mouths, excamped at Camp Hale, Manchester, N. H. They broke camp at twelve o'clock on Tucaday last, and on passing through Manchester were received by Governor N. S. Barry, the State Council and the Mayor of the city. Governor Barry addressed them in a lengthy and patri-otic speech, which was received with much enthusiasm watch while in the concert salcon No. 600 Broadway, the evening previous. He had been inveigled there by a stranger, whom he met in the hotel, and was induced to by the regiment. At the close of the Governor's speech he was followed by others, who spoke in a similar patriotic strain. Arriving in the city of Nashua, they were met by some 5,000 people, who gave them a splendid reception; and also at Worcester. In fact, they had a continual ovaland of "Nod" and rendered him an easy victim. He was able to give the police a pretty accurate description of able to give the police a pretty accurate description of the insimulating stranger, and the probability is that the detectives will speedily overhaul the rascal. During his interview with Superintendent Konnedy the reoverend gentleman detailed his experience in Secessia and Mexico, and exhibited his commission as chaphain in the First re-inent I outside a Volunteers, which was dated May 13, 1891, and signed by Governor Moore. He stated that the commission was threat upon him, and being a Union man at heart he declined to accept of the position. On the occasion of the illumination all through the South in honor of Jeff. Davie' election, Mr. Langley was pastor of St. Patrick's church, in New Orleans. He refused to illumination his which was participate in the festivities, which so irritated the mob that they broke all his windows and obliged him to fly for his life. From New Orleans he fled to Mexico, where he had some friends, but even here he was not safe from violence. He took sides, it appears, with the libera's against the church party, and became so obnoxious to the natter faction that they attempted to assassinate him. No less than two ell'rts were made to take his life—once by giring a pistol at him while he was in his bedroom one night, and the second time by attacking him in the open errect in broad daylight. The first attempt proved abortive, but the second one came very mar pathing an ent to his adventurous career. He was stabbed in the side by a brave hired for the occasion, and for a long time it was thought that he would not recover. From United States Minister Weller he lindly got protection, and was sent to Vera Cruz, from whence he sailed for Havana in one of the English steamers. He delayed at Havana several weeks for the benefit of his health, and finally, when he recovered from his wounds, he set sail for New York. He arrived at this port on Wednerday, and immediately proceeded to the Metropolitan Hotel, where he is still stopping. Mr. Langley has letters from the United States Consul at Vera and also at Worcester. In fact, they had a continual ovation on the whole line of march to Allyn's Point, where they embarked on board the steamer Connecticut, which arrived in this city at six o'elock Wednesday evening, at the foot of Canal street. As soon as they had disembarked they took up their line of march through Canal street to Broadway, down Broadway to 79 White street, where quarters were provided for them during their stay in this city. They number 1,046 men, recraited from the very best material that the State could produce. None but men of good moral character, and industriess and intelligent citizens, were accepted. In the ranks there are not less than twenty-live graduates of different colleges who have emisted as privates.

Colonel H. S. Putnam its a graduate of West Point. He is an officer in the regular army, and is a great grandson of General Israel Putnam. He possesses all the charac tertistics of "Old Put.

Lieutenant Colonel Joseph C. Abbott was formerly Adjutant General of New Hampshire, and was for eight years editor and proprietor of the Daily American of Manchester. He also resigned a lucrative Consulship under the United States government to enlist in the war against the rebels.

Major Paniel Smith, of Dover, is a man of considerable milliary knowledge, and well known throughout bis State for military experience. His father was Major of the New Hampshire forces during the war of 1812, and his grandfather Major of the New Hampshire forces during the Revolution.

The regiment is principally officered by graduates of grandiather Major of the New Hampshire forces during the Revolution.

The regiment is principally officered by graduates of military and other colleges. With an educated set of officers, intelligent and healthy soldiers, and with the drill and experience of the men, it may well be expected that this regiment will prove a valuable addition to the Union forces now in the field.

HIS EXPERIENCE IN DIXIE'S LAND, MEXICO AND NEW

ACCIDENTALLY POISONED.—Coroner Wildey held an in-quest yesterday upon the body of Rudolph Aeby, a nalive of this city, aged thirty one years, who accidentally poisened himself by taking an overdose of laudanum. Deceased, it appears, had been ill for some time, and was in the habit of alleviating his sufferings by taking small doses of laudanum. On Tuesday his brother called at his boarding house, when he was surprised to find that deceased was dead. A postmortom examination of the body showed that death had been caused by the aliministration of laudanum. There was nothing going to show that deceased contemplated suicide. The general impression seemed to be that the poisoning was purely accidental, and the jury rendered a verdict accordingly. Aeby was an old freman, and at one time held the effice of foreman in Engine Company No. 9. Lie was a carriage maker by trade, and worked with his brother in one of the Brondway establishments.

FATAL ACCIDENT TO A LABORER.—Michael McDonald, a laborer, died at St. Vincent's Hospital, from the effects of eased, it appears, had been ill for some time, and laborer, died at St. Vincent's Hospital, from the effects of a fracture of the spine, accidentally received on the 10th ult., while engaged in excayating for a sewer in Forty-seventh street, near Second avenue. Coroner Rannay held an inquest upon the body yesterday, when the jury rendered a verdiet of "Accidental death."

Firs in Berkman Street.—About four o'clock yesterday afternoon a fire broke out on the third floor of the buildng 29 Beekman street, in the premises occupied by Mo-Speden & Baker, bookbinders and envelope manufacturers. The fire originated in the rear part of the third floor, in the folding room, and extended up the dumb floor, in the folding room, and extended up the dumb waiter to the fourth floor, at which place the firemen succeeded in extinguishing the fire. The principal damage will be by water, probably to the extent of $6,000 or $5,000. No damage was done to the property in the rooms over the hotel. The first floor is occupied by R. R. Creme-desiler in printing paper; stock damaged about $500 by water; fully insured. The basement is occupied by Samuel Hingham & Co., manufacturers of printers rollers; damage, about $500 no insurance. The building belongs to the Conner estate. It is damaged about $300; fully insured. McSpedon & Baker lawe between $40,000 and $50,000 insurance in various city insurance companies, the names of which our reporter could not obtain. The cause of the fire is not known at present. Mr. McSpedon had only been gone from the room about fifteen minutes when the sureke was discovered. Fire Marshal Baker was at the premises examining into the matter.

At the meeting of the 7th institute first referred to by Judge Greenwood), I announced the engagement of Mrs. John Wood, and stated that my arrangements for her support in the pleces selected would be really good. The addition of burlesques to my programme is no excuse for the arbitrary action which did me much injustice, and deprived the whole Brooklyn community of a most agreeable opperunity of witnessing the sparkling personations of this charming comedienne. Common sense will bet, I think, endorse such a remarkable proceeding. Regretting that the contents of a lotter, which the writer considered private, were made public, I withdraw from further statement of particulars connected with this transaction, leaving the truth to speak for itself.

The grounds upon which condemnation of the goods was sought were that the jewelry had been landed without a pe mit, and that it had been found concealed with an intent to avoid the payment of duties. Singular Adventures of a Repentant Se- | The People's Union Democratic Associa

A number of gentlemen, desirous of organizing a people's Union democratic party to sustain the national administration in the present exigencies of the country, heid a meeting at Clinton Hall last evening for the purpose of consulting upon and forming a plan to accomplish that object. The call for the meeting was signed by the following persons:—E. J. Brown, Waldo Hutchins, J. De Peyster Ogden, John J. Friedman, T. B. Lawson, Jan. S. Cocks, Panl. Witter, Albert G. Hyde, Jine, L. Cilley, Jas. M. Smith, Jos. B. Varnum, Geo. Peckham, Edward Simpson, Clinton Rosseveit, Juo. Merchant, Win. E. Frost, Thos. Momeon and Robt. S. Lyon.

The platform of this new people's party, as agreed upon at a previous meeting of the above committee, is as follows:—

Whereas, the primary object of this organization is to defend and sustain the constitution of the United States and the Union of the States; the vindication of the honor of the country by whatever antagonism assuited, at home or abroad, the simpression of rebollion and the punishment of treason; the encouragement and reward of loyalty, and to give our unfaltering support to the government in the feat-feidal conflict in which it is now involved; therefore, ment of treason; the encouragement and roward of loyalty, and to give our unfaltering support to the government is the fankleidal condict in which it is now involved;

therefore,

Resolved, That it is our fixed determination to defend,
maintain and perpetuate the constitution of the United States and the Union of the States at every hazard and at whatever cast of blood and treasure; and for that purpase to sastain, with all our individual and united power and zeal, the constitutionally chosen authorities of the government; in the prosecution of the existing war with anrelaxing vigor and untiring energy, to the end that a permanent pace shall be secured by the utter extinction of the rebellien; that every loyal citizen shall be restored to and protected in the encoyment of his rights and property; that armed traitios shall see restored to and protected in the encoyment of his rights and property; that armed traitios shall be restored to and protected in the choyment of his rights and property; that armed traitions shall be restored to and protected in the choyment of his rights and property; that armed traitions shall be restored to and protected in the choyment from the repentant robels.

Resolved, That it is the duty of the government to hold the slaves that may fall into its hands, as other captured property and as a military resource applicable to useful war labor, and to deprive the enemy of an element of strength or utility in the presecution of the rebellion, leaving to the wisdom of Congress, at the class of the war, the disposition of the slaves of rebel owners, and securing to loyal slaveholders every right to which they are entitled under the constitution of the United States

the justice, policy and wisdom of the Mource dectrine in r

Mr. JAMES M. SMITH spoke strongly in the rot of the adoption.

Mr. De Peyster Goden thought the platform was not explicit enough, and that it was necessary at the present time to state precisely what was centemplated by the organization. In conclusion Mr. Ogden proposed some few trilling atterations in the language of the platform.

Mr. Chinon Resylett supported Mr. Ogden's views at some length, and expressed himself as opposed to the last resolution referring to the Monroe doctrine. Our government, he thought, was not able to enforce that dectrine at present, and it was only showing our teeth, without being able to bite, to enqueiate it now.

Mr. Hert have followed in an elaborate analysis of the platform, speaking warmly in favor of it, and dissecting the argaments of Messrs. Ogden and Rosevett, which, he said, did not differ in any material point from the principles of the platform. The question was merely one of words, not principles.

After some further debate the platform, as published above, was unanimously adopted.

On motion of Dr. Masson the following committee was then appointed to report rules and by-laws for the organization.—Thos. Manson, J. Fe Peyster Ogden, J. J. Friedman, Isaac J. Oliver and Wyllus Bluckstone.

After some further business of no interest the meeting adjourned to re-assemble at the same place one week from to-night.
